Be Your Best Health Advocate

We get it — navigating the health care system can be complicated! Don't let the fear of knowing how your insurance benefits work prevent you from using them. You can be your biggest advocate when you understand your benefits.

EmblemHealth wants you to get the care you need. Below, we've identified issues that may come up when visiting a doctor. Learn how to get the most out of your plan.

1. Understand your network: Confirm if a doctor or facility is in-network before receiving care, especially if you don't have out-of-network benefits. For example, if you need to receive bloodwork at a doctor's appointment, confirm that the doctor will send the bloodwork to a lab that's in your plan's network.

2. Understand the difference between preventive and diagnostic care: Many plans cover preventive care — at no cost. However, if you mention a new health issue during a preventive care visit, the visit may become diagnostic care.

3. EOBs: EmblemHealth will send you an Explanation of Benefits document (EOB) that shows how much we paid your doctor, and how much you will be expected to pay for your visit. This is not a bill. Compare your EOB to the bill that you receive from your doctor. If there are any differences, call the doctor's office to review the bill.

4. Know the lingo: Understanding all the words we use can be tricky. We want to make sure you understand your plan information. Here are some of the most common words you will come across:

Premium: The amount you pay for your insurance every month. If you get your health insurance through your employer, this amount may be deducted from your paycheck. Some plans don't have a premium.

In-network: If a doctor or hospital is in-network, this means that they partner with your health insurance plan. Depending on your plan, you'll usually pay less for services. Some plans have out-of-network benefits, which means you can visit any doctor, but you'll usually pay more if they are not in your plan's network.

Primary care provider (PCP): A PCP is a co-captain in your health journey. They are the first person to discuss health issues with. If you haven't visited a PCP, the best time to do so is now, before you start feeling ill. Depending on what coverage you have, an annual preventive care visit may be covered as a part of your plan. Depending on your plan, you may have to visit an in-network doctor.

Deductible: The amount you pay before your plan starts to pay. You can often find this amount listed on your insurance member ID card. Not all plans have deductibles.

Copayment or copay: The flat fee you pay for certain services such as doctor visits or prescriptions. This amount is usually listed on your member ID card and changes depending on the type of medical service. If you visit a doctor before reaching your deductible, you may pay more than your copay. Once your deductible is met, you will pay a copay. Not all plans have copays.

Coinsurance: You and your plan may share the cost of your care. The percentage you pay is called coinsurance. Not all plans have coinsurance.

Maximum out-of-pocket (MOOP): The most you will pay for covered health care services in any year. After that, your plan pays for all covered health care that you receive, as long as it's in your plan's network. Most plans have a MOOP.

Formulary: A list of medicines covered by your plan, often grouped in tiers, or payment levels.

Remember, going to the doctor early can help prevent a small health issue from becoming a larger one. With these tools, you'll get the most from your next visit.

Have questions? EmblemHealth's Customer Service is happy to help. Call the number on the back of your member ID card for questions about your plan. You'll receive a call reference number in case you need to call back.

Medication Therapy Management Can Help You Get the Most from Your Medicines

Taking medicine is a routine part of life for many adults. If you take multiple medicines, it can be easy to miss a dose or not take your medicines as prescribed. If you take multiple prescriptions or manage a chronic condition, we're here to help. The EmblemHealth Medication Therapy Management (MTM) Program is a free service for EmblemHealth Medicare plan members who have Part D prescription drug coverage, have certain health conditions, and take certain prescription medicines covered by Medicare Part D. MTM can help improve your health, reduce side effects, and even lower your risk of hospital visits. It's a smart, proactive way to take control of your care.

Early Detection Saves Lives: Stay Ahead With Men’s Health Screenings

Prostate cancer is the second most common cancer among men in the U.S., after skin cancer. According to the American Cancer Society,* about 1 in 8 men will be diagnosed with prostate cancer during their lifetime.

The good news? Early detection saves lives.

Men age 50 and older — or age 40 for those at higher risk, such as African American men or those with a family history — should talk to their doctor about getting a prostate-specific antigen (PSA) blood test.

Other important screenings include colorectal cancer (starting at age 45), routine blood pressure, cholesterol, and diabetes checks. Staying active, eating well, and not smoking can significantly lower your risk for many chronic conditions.

Taking one hour for a screening today could add years to your life. Talk to your doctor about which tests are right for you — and encourage the men in your life to do the same. Visit emblemhealth.com/live-well/prevention/adults for more prevention guidance.

Prepare for Holiday Gatherings: Schedule a Vaccine Today

The holidays are around the corner, which means more indoor gatherings with family and friends. This winter, protect yourself and your loved ones by getting seasonal vaccines for viruses like flu and COVID-19. Expectant parents, new parents, children, adults over 65, or people with chronic conditions like asthma are at a higher risk of flu complications.

According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), the 2024–2025 flu season affected more than 47 million Americans.* Keep in mind, virus strains change each year, so you will need this year’s vaccines to fight this year’s flu and COVID-19 strains. For immunization guidance, visit emblemhealth.com/live-well/prevention.

Need a flu vaccine appointment? See AdvantageCare Physicians today.

As an EmblemHealth member, you have access to care from in-network health care professionals at AdvantageCare Physicians (ACPNY). ACPNY is a primary and specialty care practice with 30+ offices across all five New York City boroughs and Long Island. Mammograms: Detecting Breast Cancer Early

An x-ray image of breast tissue, also called a mammogram, is the standard early detection test for breast cancer. The U.S. Preventive Services Task Force* suggests women ages 40 to 74 get mammograms yearly or every other year if they have average risk, depending on their age.

Regular breast self-exams are important between tests, since you can feel changes, such as new lumps. If you have a family history of breast cancer, talk with your doctor about screening more often or with other tests.

Even if your last mammogram was normal, or you don’t have a family history of breast cancer, it’s important to continue these screenings. Regular mammograms increase the chances of identifying a lump early, when it is most treatable and treatments like radiation, hormone therapy, and surgery are most effective. The National Cancer Institute noted that more than 91% of women with breast cancer live five or more years after their diagnosis!

Men can also get breast cancer, although it’s less common. Make sure to speak with your doctor and set up a screening plan that works for you. Visit emblemhealth.com/live-well/prevention/adults for more prevention guidance.
